The Baltimore Curriculum Project (BCP) is a nonprofit education organization dedicated to improving public education in Baltimore City. Founded in 1996, BCP develops and operates neighborhood public charter schools and supports educators through research-based instructional practices, professional development, and community-centered school models. Today, BCP is the city’s largest operator of neighborhood conversion charter schools, serving thousands of students in grades Pre-K through 8 with a mission to deliver equitable, high-quality education and strengthen Baltimore communities.
